THE MORNING STAR enters upon its sixty sixth volume with to-day's issue.

Hon. Chauncey Depew now enjoys the distinction of being the best dressed man in the U. S. Senate. But he wears the same old jaw with the usual adornments.

American steel billets are sold in England at $2 a ton less than in this country. The difference between the price there and here represents the amount of steal from American purchasers.

The Milwaukee man who married his son's divorced wife was bound to keep his daughter-in-law in the family. Being now her former husband's step-mother, this woman can get even with him.

Miss Elsie Tyson, of Humboldt county, California, has resigned her position as maid of all work on a ranch, as she has just inherited $13,000,000 from an eccentric old Scotch uncle who died in Australia.

The New Haven Palladium, Republican, mournfully remarks that "the great party has lost the respect and confidence of the people." It lost the respect and confidence of the people long ago, but the money of the fellows who got a grip on it pulled it through.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the Woman's Suffrage Association, demands for the women teachers in the public schools of New York the same pay as the male teachers receive. This isn't exactly our affair, but on general principles we are with Mrs. C. C. C. in this scrimmage, although we have to pop at long range.

The great tunnel through the mountains that surround the city of Mexico, as the outlet for the sewage of the city, on which work has been progressing for a number of years, has been completed. This was a stupendous undertaking, as the tunnel had to be cut through solid rock at a cost of about $40,000,000. Mexico is now said to be one of the best drained cities in the world.

W. J. Stratton, the discoverer and owner of Independence gold mine at Cripple Creek, Colorado, has just received the $6,500,000 balance of the $10,000,000 for which he sold the mine, and he is sorry he sold it. When he was working as a carpenter and hustling to earn his hash, he would have thought himself pretty well fixed with $10,000,000 in his grip. But he probably doesn't feel half as well satisfied now as he did when he was pushing a plane, and driving nails instead of bargains for millions.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Spirits turpentine was steady on the local market yesterday at 53½@53 cents. Receipts were 13 casks.

— The third degree will be conferred by Wilmington Lodge No. 319 of Masons to night at the Temple.

— Dr. W. M. McPheeters and Dr. Joseph R. Wilson will hold communion service at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. Dr. McPheeters will preach at the evening service.

— All the ladies who have signified their intention of participating in the Cosmorama of Trade and Art to be given under the auspices of the First Baptist Church choir, are requested to meet in the lecture room this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. J. Henry Gerls, the director, will be present.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

W. M. Cumming—Elected.
Masonic—Meeting Wil. Lodge.
Opera House—Jolly Pathfinders.
U. C Ellis—Photographic change.
Jas. D. Nutt—Defeated candidates.
Christian Association St Paul's Lutheran Church—Notice.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

— Mr. W. J. Beamon, of Clinton, was among yesterday's registrations at The Orton.

— Mr. W. M. Corbett, Jr., of Ivanhoe, was among yesterday's callers at the STAR officers.

— Mrs. Pauline Sperling, of New York, is in the city, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Solky.

— The STAR was pleased yesterday to have a call from Mr. Thos. H. W. McIntire, Superintendent of Public Instruction in Pender county.

—Cameron Morrison, Esq., one of Rockingham's most prominent attorneys and enthusiastic Democrats, arrived yesterday on a professional visit. To the active efforts of Mr. Morrison is largely due the overthrow of negro supremacy in Richmond county during the memorable campaign of '98.

MARKET STREET REAL ESTATE.

Mr. B. H. J. Ahrens Purchases Residence and Lot from Mr. A. David.

An important deal in Market street real estate yesterday became apparent from a deed filed for registration at the Court House.

By the provisions of the deed, Mr. B H. J. Ahrens became the owner of the handsome building and lot, 64x130 feet in size, on northwest corner of Seventh and Market streets, he having purchased the same for $11,500 from Mr. A. David, the former owner.

The building is one of the prettiest and most eligibly located residences in the city and by its purchase Mr. Ahrens acquires one of the most valuable residence properties in the city.

The Y. M. C. A.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. met last night for the transaction of important business. The initiation fee which has been $2.00, has been dropped and it is hoped that many young men will take advantage of this inducement and send in their names at once.

The gymnasium committee reported progress, and that the only drawback to the work on the swimming pool was the delay in getting the plans.

Ten delegates are to be appointed to the State convention which will be held at Greensboro.

The library will be put in order and the rule enforced to charge two cents for each day that a book is kept out of the library longer than the time limit which is two weeks.

Shipping Notes.

The American schooner Lois V. Chaples, 192 tons, Capt. Meders, arrived in port yesterday with fertilizer material from Salem, Mass., for the Acme Manufacturing Company. While on the way down she encountered heavy seas and had her bulwarks washed away and also lost her spanker. She was towed up yesterday afternoon by the tug Jones.

The British steamship Northflint, Capt. Owens, was cleared yesterday by Mr. Will L. Miller, of the Acme Tea Chest Company, with a cargo of gum logs for Glasgow. This is the second cargo of this material from Wilmington this season.

Prisoners from Brunswick.

Sheriff D. R. Walker, of Brunswick county, arrived in the city last evening with three prisoners sentenced at this week's term of the court at Southport to terms in the State prison. Robert Hankins, the negro steamboat hand, who was arrested here for the larceny of a sum of money from a negro in Southport, is one of the number and he gets two years. The two others are Richard Gause and Dennis Rountree, both colored, for larceny also. They are sentenced to a term of three years each.

Georgetown Steamboat Line.

A regular line of steamers to ply between Wilmington and Georgetown is now being talked of by several prominent business men, who propose to organize a stock company for the operation of such a line. There is already a good trade between this city and Georgetown and intervening points and it is proposed to purchase two light draft steamers, for both freight and passengers. The project appears to be substantially backed, and the plans will in all probability mature.

CANDIDATES NAMED.

Nominations at the Primaries Yesterday for County and Legislative Tickets.

F. H. STEDMAN FOR SHERIFF.

Morton for Senate; Empie and Rountree Legislature; Biddle, Register; Green, Treasurer; McRee, Surveyor; Sheehan, Constable.

Never before since the war, perhaps, have the Democrats of New Hanover placed in the field a county and legislative ticket so certain of success at the polls in the general election on the first Thursday in August as that nominated at the primaries held in the various wards and townships in the county yesterday. Hitherto and before the overthrow of negro domination in the State and county during the memorable campaign of 1898, hopes of Democratic victory at the polls in the election of county and legislative tickets were distant and indefinite and it was only with difficulty that men were induced to sacrifice their time and personal inclinations to become candidates on a ticket with slim chances of election. Yesterday found a decided reverse of these conditions and the contest was marked by large number of candidates of influence and character who sought the suffrages of their fellow citizens in the first campaign under white government since November one year ago. The canvass before the primaries yesterday was active, vigorous and the contest was warmly waged.

The day was devoid of untoward incidents of consequence and the election passed off quietly. The candidates and their friends were very active and a fairly large vote was polled. The contest that excited most interest was that between candidates for Sheriff and State Senator and many feared that a second primary would be necessary to a choice.

From official and the most accurate information obtainable last night from the several precincts it appears that the result of the primary may be summed up as follows:

For Senate—Geo. L. Morton.

For Representatives—George Rounree and Brooke G. Empie.

For Sheriff—Frank H. Stedman.

For Register of Deeds—William H. Biddle.

For Treasurer—H. McL. Green.

For Coroner—No choice, and second primary necessary between Dr. W. F. Stokes and J. C. Walton.

For Surveyor—Jos. H. McRee.

For Constable of Wilmington Township—Wm. Sheehan.

A second primary, as stated, it appears will be necessary to determine a choice for Coroner, unless some compromise is effected between the two candidates who received the largest vote.

Capt. George L. Morton has 39 majority over Iredell Meares, Esq., for the State Senate, and Frank H. Stedman received a majority of 170 over all other candidates for Sheriff, and a plurality of 373 over the next highest candidate—Mr. Samuel Northrop. The candidate receiving the largest vote was H. McL. Green for Treasurer, he having polled 1,575, a majority over his competitor of 1014. W. H. Biddle for Register of Deeds, polled 1,324 votes, a majority over all other candidates of 557 and a plurality over the next highest candidate of 727. Wm. Sheehan for Constable of Wilmington township received a majority of 191, and a plurality over Millis of 265.

In Cape Fear township, M. G. Chadwick was nominated without opposition for Constable, having received 40 votes and, C. W. Walton was nominated for Constable in Harnett township in a vote of 8 to 1. Charles Elliott, who was not announced as a candidate until noon yesterday, received 11 votes in the Second ward for County Surveyor.

The vote in detail, as it was returned to the County Executive Committee last night, is embodied in the table printed in another column this morning.

BASE BALL GAME.

Interesting Game Played Yesterday Between Two School Teams.

An interesting game of base ball was played yesterday afternoon between a team of the Wilmington High School and that of Miss Alderman's Select School at corner of Sixth and Red Cross streets. The score stood 13 to 3 in favor of the last named team.

The following was the line up:

W. H. S.		Miss Alderman's.
Moore	c	Fattie
McIntire	p	Chadwick
Hall	1b	Irving
Holt	2b	Galloway
Toomer	3b	Woodard
Schulken	ss	Woodbury
Blackwell	lf	Wilson
Cole	rf	Smith
Duffy	cf	Craft

Umpires—Irving and Bunting.

Newbern Fair Marshals.

The following marshals from Wilmington for the Newbern Fair have been announced by Chief Marshal T. W. Dewey:

John Bellamy, Rob Rankin, T. M. Turrentine, Harry Smallbones, Walter Williamson, W. A. Dick, Donald MacRae, Jr., Sam Vick, C. C. Chadbourn, H. H. McIlhenny, M. C. Elliott, Geo. Crow, Henry Peschau, Charlie Taylor, James Stevenson, John K. Williams, John J. Blair, Fred W. Dick, R. B. Mason, Herbert L. Borden, Hugh L. Miller, Clayton Giles, Warren S. Johnson, Robert Bellamy and Charles Elliott.

Transfer of Routes.

Mr. J. E. Albright, the genial railway mail clerk, has been transferred from the Wilmington-Norfolk route to the Wilmington and Mount Airy route. The transfer is in the line of a promotion and the position is the one formerly held by Mr. C. L. Banner, whose death in Richmond was noted several weeks ago. Mr. Albright will in all probability change his residence from this city to Mount Airy or Greensboro to suit the convenience of his new route.

Church Entertainment.

The entertainment last evening by the Literary Society of Fifth Street Methodist Church was largely attended and quite a neat sum of money was realized for the benefit fund. The musical programme as printed in the STAR yesterday was delightfully rendered in the lecture room after which those in attendance repaired to the residence of Mr. J. J. McGwin on corner of Fifth and Church streets, where delightful refreshments were served.

POSTOFFICE FOR DELGADO.

Application for Establishment by Representative Bellamy--A National Bank at Morganton—Appointments.

[Special Star Telegram.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—The Senate Committee on Military Affairs to-day reported, favorable, Senator Pritchard's bill to correct the military record of John Shelton, late of Company E, Second North Carolina mounted infantry.

Representative Bellamy to-day made application to the Postoffice Department for the establishment of a postoffice at Delgado, near the site of the new Holt mill, near Wilmington, and also at the Belmont mills, near Charlotte.

Representative Crawford was very busy to-day calling on all the departments in the interest of his constituents.

All the members of the North Carolina delegation, except Linney, voted against the passage of the Loud bill to-day.

B. D. Scarborough has been appointed surfman at Big Kinnakeet Life Saving station, N. C.

J. J. Dunlop, of Norwood, N. C., and Wade Straburry, of Littleton, have been appointed clerks in the railway mail service.

The Comptroller of the Currency has approved the application of Clement Geitner, A. A. Sheford, O. M. Royster, N. C. Menzie and N. B. Menzie, for authority to organize the First National Bank of Morganton, N. C.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Two Magnificent Plays by Two Superb Companies Next Week.

On next Tuesday evening, the 27th instant, George H. Broadhurst's latest and greatest comedy, "Why Smith Left Home," with a superb cast, including such metropolitan comedians as Frank Tannehill, Jr., and Lottie Williams Salter and a large supporting company of equally prominent players in this production of comedy, which is promised and endorsed as one of the events of the season.

Then, on Wednesday evening, the 28th, comes the event dramatic and social of the season, Hall Caine's "The Christian." This superb attraction, containing a magnificent cast of fifty people, headed by that delightful little American woman, Effie Ellsler, as Glory Quale, which comes to us direct from its Pacific coast success—five weeks in the city of San Francisco—where the company played to phenomenal business. Every piece of scenery used in the production, and all light effects, calcium, etc., as well as all stage accessories for a play superbly costumed, are carried.

CAPE FEAR QUARANTINE STATION.

Transfer of Officers in Command of the Post Down the River.

Dr. T. B. McClintic, of the United States Marine Hospital Service, arrived in the city yesterday and will become officer in command of the Cape Fear Quarantine station down the river in place of Dr. B. W. Brown, the present incumbent, who has been transferred to the Cape Charles Quarantine at Old Point, Virginia.

Dr. Brown will leave for his new post of duty at once. Dr. McClintic has formerly been in charge of the station to which Dr. Brown has been transferred.

Prof. Samuel May.

A friend in Wilmington, of Prof. Samuel May, of the University of North Carolina, whose death was chronicled in these columns several days ago, sends the following tribute to his memory:

"The many friends of Mr. Samuel May, the Assistant Professor of Modern Languages at the University, will be deeply grieved to learn of his death at Chapel Hill, on Tuesday evening. He was first taken with La Grippe last Thursday. Prof. May was a graduate of Harvard and for three years has been teaching at the University where he had become much beloved.

A thorough, honest, unprejudiced teacher and man, he was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. The University has lost a faithful, efficient and valuable servant, an untiring and energetic worker for its advancement; professors and students a most loyal and worthy friend. His remains were sent yesterday to his home in Boston. He had many friends in this city who will sincerely sympathize with the bereaved family. He was a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity."

Eighty-fifth Birthday.

Mr. Alfred Alderman, one of the best known and most esteemed of Wilmington's citizens, celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday yesterday and he was the recipient of many congratulations from his friends. He is remarkably strong and well preserved for one of his age, and but for an accident sustained some time ago in stumbling over a low fence built around a grass plot, he would be up and upon the streets. He is now able to sit up and hopes to be out in a few days.

THE COSMORAMA.

The choir of the First Baptist Church have in preparation a novel and delightful entertainment, the Cosmorama of Trade and Art, which will be presented at the Opera House March 30th, under the direction of J. Henry Gerls, of Chicago, an experienced director. Although founded upon the same idea as the merchants' carnival, it is entirely different in its form of presentation. The business firms will be represented by Wilmington's fair daughters in novel and appropriate costumes and a series of new and pleasing drills, marches and tableaux, presented under the multi-colored calcium light. About 100 people will participate.

Elks Elect Officers.

At the regular meeting last night of Wilmington Lodge No. 533, B. P. O. E., the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Exalted Ruler—H. J. Gerken.

Esteemed Leading Knight—C. T. Harper.

Esteemed Loyal Knight—W. F. Robertson.

Esteemed Lecturing Knight—John McIntire.

Secretary—Warren S. Johnson.

Treasurer—C. E. Taylor.

Trustee—I. M. Bear, M. W. Divine and R. W. Wallace.

Tyler—John R. Turrentine.

After the election of officers the lodge resolved itself into a social session, and quite a pleasant season was spent. Refreshments were served.

Death of Edward T. Suden.

Friends in this city will hear with regret of the death of Mr. Edward T. Suden, which occurred at his home No. 818 Grace street Thursday night at ten o'clock, in the eighty fifth year of his age. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from St Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery. The Christian Association of the church, of which deceased was a member, has been called to meet at Luther Memorial Hall at three o'clock this afternoon to attend the funeral.

People's Popular Course.

Many patrons of the People's Popular Course say that the entertainment in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association, which is the fifth and last number of the People's Popular Course, they expect, will be the best of the season. They base their expectation on the reputation Geo. H. Iott, basso for the old Schuberts Quartette, has made in Wilmington. Quite especially, one of those foremost in musical circles here says, that "nothing sweeter, more sublime, more musical, has ever been in Wilmington than the voice of Geo. H. Iotts," and that he bought a Popular Course Ticket because Iott's name was in the list.

The box sheet for this number will open to-morrow morning at the store of Messrs. C. W. Yates & Co. where single admission ticket may also be had.

Tramway to Creosote Works.

An agreement was filed yesterday for registration at the Court House by which Mr. L. Hansen, proprietor of the Creosote Works, at corner of Dawson and Surry streets, grants certain privileges by which the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company agrees to furnish a spur of track into the works for the shipment of its products. Repairs are going on steadily at the works; new buildings are being erected and upon the whole the indications are for an important enterprise for Wilmington.

Death of R. S. Mitchell.

News was received in the city last night of the death of Mr. R. S. Mitchell at Union, S. C., who is well known here, he having married a daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Bishop, No. 214 North Sixth street. Mrs. Mitchell was here with her mother at the time of his death, which was of consumption. Mr. Mitchell's home was at Edenton, N. C., but he had gone to Union for treatment and died there. It is undecided whether he will be buried here or at Edenton.

A FIENDISH CRIME.

Young Woman Brutally Murdered by Four Men—Slashed With Knives and Her Clothing Set on Fire.

[Special Star Telegram.]

WADESBORO, N. C., March 22.—Intelligence has just reached Wadesboro of a most horrible crime, committed in the adjoining county, Chesterfield, S. C. A few days ago Cassie Boone, a young woman of bad repute, was enticed from her home by four men, carried to the woods near by, assaulted with knives and her flesh almost carved from her bones. After having satisfied themselves with this treatment the four brutes saturated her clothing with oil and set it on fire. Her creams brought assistance, and the flames were extinguished. She was carried to her home, lingered a few hours, and died.

It is alleged that this young woman had married a man by the name of Steen, but still retained her maiden name. It is said that her husband instigated the foul deed, and led the assaults upon the woman. One of the other three is a brother to Steen and the other two are sons of "fiddler" Steve Jackson. The feeling in the country runs high.

Courtesy to the Elks.

Mr. J. N. Rentfrow, manager of the "Rentfrow Jolly Pathfinders," and the management of the Opera House last evening extended the courtesy of the house to night to the members of Wilmington Lodge B. P. O. Elks, No. 532, which was accepted at their sociable last night with expressions of gratitude to Mr. Rentfrow, who is a brother Elk, being a prominent member of Baltimore Lodge B. P. O. E., No. 7. The Wilmington Elks will be in attendance in a body to-night, when the funny farce comedy, "Below Zero," will be presented.

DIED.

SUDEN—At 10 P. M. yesterday (Thursday) EDWARD T. SUDEN, aged 84 years, 1 month and 28 days.

Funeral at 3:30 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon from St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Interment in Oakdale cemetery. Friends invited.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 23, 1900.

BAD POLITICS.

We have produced extracts from the Chicago Times-Herald, the Chicago Inter-Ocean, and the Indianapolis News, all leading Republican organs of the West, denouncing the Porto Rican tariff bill as morally outrageous and politically a blunder of the first magnitude. But it isn't the Western papers only that are opposed to it, for it has been vigorously denounced by such independent journals as the Washington Post, the Philadelphia Ledger and others, and by some of the leading Republican papers of the East. As showing how some of these papers view it we reproduce the following from the Post:

"Inasmuch as the tobacco interest of Connecticut was one of the principal factors in effecting that sudden and amazing change which arrayed the House of Representatives against the President's earnest recommendation of free trade for Porto Rico, it may interest our Republican friends in Congress to learn what the Hartford Courant, the leading Republican paper of that State, thinks of the Porto Rican tariff bill. 'The Bad Politics of It' is the caption of a recent Courant editorial calling attention to extracts which it reproduces from seven representative Republican journals of the great West—two of them published in the State of President McKinley and Senator Hanna.'

"The Courant says the bill strikes nearly all the other journals of that class out there in the same way; that not merely these big city newspapers but also the newspapers of the little cities and towns are crying out at the folly of it. It could easily fill a page, it says, with their outspoken protests against it.

"That is the simple truth, and it seems to us to present a situation to which the leaders of the dominant party in Congress cannot afford to blid The Courant says:

"The amazement with which the Republicans of the West viewed it at first is rapidly changing to anger. The indications are that, if it were submitted to popular vote by referendum, it would be beaten a thousand to one. There is good reason for fearing that Indiana is not the only State of the Middle West that will be instantly moved over into the 'doubtful' column by its enactment.

"Is it wise politics, we again ask the politicians of the Senate and House 'steering committee,' to jam through by sheer force of party discipline a measure so obnoxious to millions of voters wh se votes will be wanted—and needed—eight months from now?"

"The two or three Republican Congressmen who have taken pains to inform the Post of their disapproval of its plainness of speech on this question will possibly find it convenient to write to the editor of the Courant. In common with every other independent journal and nearly the entire Republican press. The Post promptly indorsed President McKinley's view of 'our plain duty' in this matter. The Post stands with the President, with his latest Republican predecessor, with President Schurman, of the Philippine Commission; with the leaders of thought in education and religion, and with the masses of the people, "the plain people," as the Philadelphia Press designates the general run of voting citizens. In performing its imperative duty as an independent newspaper it is not compelled, as it has some times been, to set itself against the current of public sentiment. It will be fortunate for the Republican party if its leaders in both Houses of Congress will give heed to the warnings of such judicious counselors as the Hartford Courant and those "representative Republican journals of the great West" to whose deliverances the Courant invites their attention.

The Hartford Courant, is largely owned by Senator Hawley, who does considerable of its leading editorial writing. Exactly how he stands as a Senator on this Porto Rican business we do not know, for he has not yet delivered himself on that subject, but whether he has been, like some of the other Republican statesmen, whipped into assenting to if not actually supporting this infamy, his paper is evidently determined to keep in the procession with the people on that issue.

But is it the bad faith or the bad politics which has so moved these party papers and made them so indignant at a measure proposed and favored in some shape by the party representatives in Washington? We would like to give them credit for thorough sincerity in their denunciation, but we cannot help believing that if this legislation had excited less adverse criticism by the people they would not be nearly so much concerned about it as they are, and would discuss it, if they did discuss it, in quite a different tone. They have endorsed fooling with Cuba for a year and a half when we should have given our kindergarten lessons in government and gotten out of there six months ago, and they have endorsed all the outrages perpetrated and proposed in the Philippines.

There is no politics, to divide the party, in Cuba nor in the Philippines, for the Republicans are practically united on these, and therefore there is little or no harsh criticism of any measures adopted in dealing with either of these. It is even very probable that if the President had not spoken so strongly in his message about the "plain duty" of Congress in the case of Porto Rico, thus drawing the attention of the people to that island and in advance committing the party organs to this "plain duty," there would have been but little if any remonstrance against the scheme for taxing the people of Porto Rico. After having commended the President's views they could not very well take a back sommerset and endorse the reverse of what he recommended.

But why do they pummel the Republican Congressmen who supported this measure and treat with silence or so gingerly the President who is as much or even more responsible for it than the Congressmen are, for none of them were so committed against it as he was when he urged them to remove tariff restrictions from the products of Porto Rico and from our products going to Porto Rico. He was not talking for politics then, but for keeping our pledges, and for fair play to the people of that island; but three months later at the dictates of politicians who were catering to the protected interests he weakly or culpably reversed himself, swallowed his own words and not only assented to the enactment of this tariff scheme, but actually used the influence of his office to carry it through. In our estimation his share of the guilt of that measure is greater than that of any Congressman who voted for it. He not only connived at and aided in the imposition of this burden upon Porto Rico, but assented to and connived at the breach of faith with the people to whom he had, through his military representative, General Miles, made these solemn promises. This wasn't simply a want of backbone, for, although there was an amazing deficiency of that, it was also an amazing lack of principle, and a still more amazing disregard of national honor.

That Mr. McKinley and other leaders who are responsible for this infamy have already realised this and some of its possible consequences, is quite apparent by the squirming they are doing and the various devices they have resorted to to crawl out of the hole into which they have put themselves by truckling to the protected interests, from which they expect big contributions of cash for the next election.

SHEEP CULTURE.

The number of sheep in this country has increased considerably within the past four years, about three millions, the number now reported by the United States Department of Agriculture being 41,883,065, valued at $122,665,913. The highest numbers are found in Texas, which is credited with 2,416,721; Ohio with 2,839,690; Wyoming with 2,840,190; Montana with 3,884,179, and New Mexico with nearly 4,000.000. North Carolina has 235,26?; South Carolina, 61,217; Florida, 75,074; Georgia, 294,826; Louisiana, 113,205: West Virginia, 426,814; Kentucky, 549,832. The other Southern States have probably somewhere in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 between them.

This isn't a very good showing for North Carolina or for any of the other Southern States, with the exception of Texas and the Territory of New Mexico, for every one of these States is well adapted to sheep growing, much better than Ohio, or any of the Western States where they are so numerous. In the States east of the Mississippi more attention has been given the sheep in Ohio than in any other State, while in the States west the wide grazing ranges are more than offset by the more favorable climate of the South, where there is also sufficient range for pasture, making the cost of care and feeding merely nominal.

There ought to be five times as many sheep raised in the South as there are, and there would be if the sheep was appreciated at anything like its full value. Dogs in some sections and wild animals in others have been some obstacles to the progress of this industry, and our legislators, as a rule, have been more timid about tackling the dog than the wild animals, which haven't any owners that do voting. But interest is growing in the sheep, and eventually it may have a chance to live and propagate and make a better showing than it does now.

Mr. Weed, of Connecticut, proposes to lay out on his farm a second Garden of Eden, a fac simile of the original garden as described in in Genesis. But he will have to keep out, as there were no weeds in that garden.

No Right To Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always find friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

THERE MAY BE SOMETHING IN THIS.

A correspondent of the London Daily Mail telegraphs that he had just returned to Cape Town from Bloemfontein, and there learned that there would probably be no further movement for three weeks, as "negotiations were proceeding" and he wouldn't "be surprised if the war collapsed quickly." There may be something in this, for although Great Britain, elated by her recent successes, is playing a game of bluff, she is not any more anxious to continue this racket than the Boers are. The men who are engineering the war for her know enough to understand that while they may eventually capture Pretoria, they still have a rough road to travel and that the capture will be at a fearful cost if the Boers resolve to defend it as they say they will.

Pretoria is 290 miles from Bloemfontein, is situated in a very rugged country, and surrounded by mountains through the narrow passes of which an invading army must march to reach that city. It is said to be one of the most strongly and skillfully fortified cities in the world, defended with the best guns in the world so scientifically mounted that one man can do the work of ten with ordinary guns, each gun being supplied with a magasine near by containing ammunition enough to last for two years. Not only this, but every defile leading to the city is fortified with the best of guns, so placed as to command the approaches, and also as to be invisible to the approaching foe. They all use smokeless powder. In addition to this it is said that these defiles are underlaid with mines which if it become necessary could be exploded with the touch of a button destroying the army that might be over them.

The presumption is that the British war managers are not altogether in the dark as to the defences of the city, but whether they are or not, it is evident that they realize that they have hard work to do and hard fighting before they take Pretoria, if the Boers are determied to defend it.

But in addition to this there is a nervous feeling in Great Britain that there may be complications with some of the European Governments, which would put her in a very embarrassing position if this war in South Africa should continue to draw so heavily on her resources, so that it is not at all unlikely that her statesmen would be glad to close this business up if they could do it in such a way as to fully protect British interests and prevent danger of further trouble with the Boers. Possibly they may find a way to do this, and save some of the millions they would otherwise have to spend and the lives they would have to sacrifice.

Cecil Rhodes has been criticising General Buller's method of campaigning. Cecil is mad, probably, because Buller let him stay penned up in Kimberley so long and didn't go to his relief at once. Cecil has a good deal of cheek as well as diamonds.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— In strange keeping with the "war's all over" talk in the Philippines, it is noticeable that every time Otis telegraphs that one province is cleared of "rebels," or "robber bands," some other province seems to rise up in arms with startling promptitude.—New Orleans Times—Democrat, Dem.

—— When the Republicans begin their campaign this year they will be called upon to defend Algerism, Gageism, Hannaism, un-Americanism, the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, a secret British alliance, the Puerto Rico robbery, trusts and imperialism. Can they successfully defend them?—Chatanooga Times, Dem.

—— The present price of cotton should not be suffered to stop the agitation in favor of diversified crops. Should there be a great crop next harvest, the price would not be nine cents, and might be in the neighborhood of half of that figure. And then where would the farmer be? In the hole.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— Senator Beveridge has evidently "beard from Injeana," where the Republican party is a red hot unit against a Porto Rico tariff. In the Senate yesterday he offered a free-trade substitute for the tariff bill. Mr. Beveridge said that the appropriation of $2,000,000 for the immediate relief of Porto Rico "removes the reason which members had for voting for the bill." This calm ignoring of the fact that the real reason was protection, not revenue, will hardly be accepted by the promoters of the scheme; but it offers a way out of the party pickle if the Tariff League will accept it, as Mr McKinley seems disposed to do. —New York World, Dem.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lally, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected soon to die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles 10 cents at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store; every bottle guaranteed. †

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Durham Herald: A message was received here Tuesday night from Chapel Hill bringing the sad intelligence of the death of Prof Samuel S May, one of the instructors in the University. He died at 8 o'clock.

— Tarboro Southerner: Bud Lindsay, a convict on the East Carolina railway, made his third attempt to escape Tuesday and was killed by Mr. Lashley, one of the guards. He was shot at five times. Lindsay was rather a tough character, when in Halifax jail he knocked the jailer down by striking him over the head with a beer bottle.

— Greensboro Telegram: It was noted in these columns some weeks ago that the Southern Bobbin Works had been incorporated and organized in this city for the manufacture of bobbins, picker sticks, skewers, lease rods and loom levers. Since that time the projectors of the enterprise have been busy getting ready to begin work. It is the pleasure of this paper to day to announce that the machinery has been set to humming.

— Newbern Journal: Tuesday night about 9 o'clock the gin house, barn and stables of Mr. E. W Scott living 4 miles from Pollocksville at a place known as Oak Grove or Quaker bridge road was completely destroyed by fire, losing all his corn, fodder, peas, cotton seed and hay, also two horses were burned, one burned entirely to death, and one so bandly as likely to die at any time. This is a very heavy loss to Mr. Scott. The cause of the fire is unknown. Supposed to be spontaneous combustion as there seems to be no reason for suspicion of any one as he had no enemies as he knew of.

— Clinton Democrat: Mr. Thos. Faircloth, of Taylor's Bridge township, died on Tuesday night, the 13th. He was about seventy years of age —— Mr. John Cromartie, son of the late Wm. J. Cromartie, of Bladen, died at his home near Garland on Tuesday night, the 13th inst. He was about 35 years of age and had been in declining health for the past two years. —— Farmers report a fall of black rain in all parts of western and northern Wake county last Thursday morning. Darkness at 9 o'clock was so great that lamps had to be lighted. The rain was as black as soot.

— Raleigh Post:: George Ritter, colored, was taken from his home, near Carthage, last Friday night by masked men, and after his body had been shockingly mutilated the victim was shot and swung to a tree. The news of the horrible crime was received at the Executive office yesterday. Though the outrage was committed last Friday night, the first news of it was learned yesterday. A gentleman writing here said that the community was so horrified over the revolting crime that nothing had been said to the outside world concerning it. The theory of the people who knew the negro and are acquainted with the details of the crime is that Ritter was tortured and murdered by moonshiners, who had reason to believe that he had given information to the government concerning their operations in that vicinity.

American Physical Development.

Dr. Angelo Mosso while in America made a minute study of the system of physical education, particularly as carried out at the athletic clubs of the American seats of learning. Referring to the Boston gymnasium, he says: "The interest and the wonder with which these academic adjuncts inspire me awaken a sense of melancholy when I think how far we in Italy are removed from such perfection. It is enough," he adds, "to look at the passersby in the American streets to be convinced how much more developed and strong they are than our compatriots. The boys and girls are in point of physique far superior to ours. All the public takes interest in physical exercises, every journal being compelled to report athletic competitions, regattas, football encounters, golf matches and such like, because its readers have even a greater enthusiasm for those topics than for the strife of parties. America teaches us by the plainest and most impressive of examples that physical education may be carried to perfection without any military object. In the United States no one dreams of becoming a soldier. If military force is required, it is provided, as in Great Britain, by voluntary enlistment. Nevertheless America and the British isles are precisely the two countries where physical education has reached its highest development. My admiration for this new world is all the greater when I reflect that its civilization is that of the future, which, even for Italy, will have better days in store."—London Lancet.

Not All Wool.

"You seem to be proud of your long, pointed spines," remarked the rabbit to the porcupine, "but they don't keep you warm. See how you shiver when a cold wind blows! You ought to have a warm fur coat like mine."

"You're not all wool by any means," retorted the porcupine. "Your tail is notoriously a cotton affair."—Chicago Tribune.

Is a genuine specific for diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. No other medicine has had so remarkable a success in curing diseases affecting the heart, liver and lungs, whenever these diseases, as is commonly the case, were caused by "weak stomach" and impure blood. Food imperfectly digested cannot be perfectly assimilated. "Golden Medical Discovery" restores the organs of digestion to perfect working order. Foul blood must result in a foul body. The "Discovery" purifies the blood and increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so increasing the quantity and quality of the blood supply. It has been tried by over half-a-million people. It has cured ninety-eight out of every hundred who have tried it.

Social Life in the Settlement.

The Rawlins Eagle has these interesting items in its social column:

Billy Staples is in town again. Bill, if you'll pay John Hammond that bet we won't say anything about a certain pretty widow.

Social Cozens is in our midst once more. Social, old boy, you have our sincerest sympathies. Miss Katie left two hours before your train tied up.

Pulin Green came up from Grayville yesterday. Pulin is a gay bird. He heard all about that phantom party Miss Essie is going to give.

Ross Struthers is looking mighty anxious these days. Never mind, Ross, the old folks are quite willing. Sail in and win.

Miss Pittie Patter is visiting Miss Mollie Clapper, and they do say that somebody is building a house which she likes very much.—Atlanta Constitution.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The cotton market turned sharply upward to-day after a poor start. The volume of business was more satisfactory, though far smaller than the average of the past few weeks. Influenced by bearish cables, a clear weather map and generally favorable crop account from the Southwest, the market opened steady, three to five points lower on near two points lower to one higher on far months. Local liquidation and scarcity of buyers were supplementary influences in depressing the market during the first half hour. Then came a rapid and decided advance on energetic foreign buying of the far months and a sudden change in the purport of later cables from the Liverpool market. Local shorts took fright and soon good buying orders were coming in from the South and Wall street. Before the upward movement had been checked prices had reached a level ten points above the opening and for the rest of the market held well up to these figures on room support and promise a bullish showing of statistics to morrow. The port movement was smaller than expected, but offsetting this feature was the more liberal showing at the interior receiving points than anticipated. Reports that crop preparations were backward and that the acreage was not turning out so large as predicted in January were the causes given for the scare of shorts in Liverpool market. On the rise here, the investment public sold the present crop for profit and bought the far months light. Closed steady, four to ten points higher.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Cotton quiet; middling uplands 9½c.

"O shaw," paw says, "You musten't Beleave Evrything You Hear. Sum people what would Be old mades if they Wouldent of Been borned so that Whiskers Grew on thare Fals when thay Got old Enuff Would Call Crokay a Brutle game if thay happened to Fall over a Wicked."

So when little albert and the Pupp was out in the alley Haven fun with the Hendersons' Chickens me and paw Formed a Flyin wedge and Got away. I ast paw if he Ever seen a Game Before and he sed no, but he new all about it Frum reedin the papers. But he told me He Didn't want to Be Bothered by no Foolish questions when we Got thare, So I promused I wouldn't Say a Word.

The Game was goin on when we Got inside, and jist as We Crowded past a lot of people to whare we Could See Our Teem made a Three Yard gane and Thay was all Down in a Bunch.

Then the band plaid "A Hot Time in the Old town tonite."

"Hello," paw Says, "thare 6ten. Gee, thare's a purty Skrap Goin on. Why Don't the poleas go out and Stop them?"

A big man what stood Beside paw Looked around and Lafft, but Didn't say nothing. Then thay got Up and Went at it agin, and the Band plaid "A Hot time," and thay was a Fumbel and the other side got the Ball and thare men Hollered like injuns and paw Begin to Git exsited and he Hollered Hooraw too, and the man next to Him got mad and Wanted to Bet paw ten Dollers thay Woulden't gain three Yards on the next Down.

"I Don't Care whether thay do or not," paw told Him, and went on Cheerin.

"You Better git Over thare in the visator's Corner," the man Sed, "if your on the uther Side."

"Which is the uther side?" paw ast.

The man Looked at paw kind of Disgusted, and By that time the Band plaid "A Hot time," and Sumbuddy Got the ball and started fer a Run Down the feeld and Too men Tackled Him, and paw Hollered:

"Hit 'em in the Fals! Nock 'Em Down!"

Then Sumbuddy Cot the feller that Was Runnen and He turned a Summerset, and paw and Every Buddy Else Yelled and the Band plaid "A Hot Time," and when thay was Lined up agin the man standin next to paw ast:

"What Did you yell fer When thay Downed Your Man? His Run wasen't Enny Good. I could of Beat it miself."

Paw was agoin to Say Sumthing, But thay was Down agin and sumbuddy was Hurt and thay was Runnen Out with Buckets of Water and Gittin the Blud off of Him with a Spunge, and the Band was playen "A Hot Time."

"What side Does he Belong?" paw ast the man next to Him.

"That's one of Our Boys," the man Sed.

"Well, Blame it," paw Says, "What are thay Standen Around thare Like a lot of Cattle fer? Why Don't thay Kick the Close offen the feller that Hit Him?"

Before the man Could Say Ennything thay was Playin agin, and Our Side Got the Ball acrost the line, and the Band plaid "a Hot Time." Every Buddy Went Crazy, and a man Behind paw Hit him Over the Hed with his Cane and the Big man jabbed His Elbo in paw's Side and Jumped on His Feat and paw Got mad and wanted to Fite, So a poleasmun put Him Out of the Grounds, and the band plaid "A Hot time."

When we got home maw ast:

"Well, was it a Good Game?"

"Oh, fair," paw says. "I Wunder if We Have Room Enuff in our Back yard fer a Crokay grounds?"—Georgie in Chicago Times-Herald.

Opening For a Linguist.

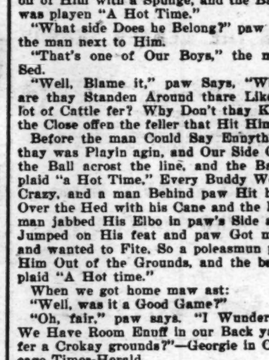
Cultivated Stranger—You advertise for a man who can speak 26 languages?

Mr. Gotham—Yes, sir. The position is still open.

"May I ask concerning the matter of its duties?"

"Certainly. I own considerable property in New York, and I want a man to collect the rents."—New York Weekly.

A Jewel of a Wife.



Jeweler—Oh, darling, your eyes are like diamonds, your lips are like rubies, your teeth are like pearls, your hair—

She (interruptiug)—Come, Carl, don't always talk shop so!—Das Kleine Witzblatt.

The Exception.

"Women, as a rule," remarked the cynical bachelor, "are given to exaggeration."

"But there are exceptions to all rules, you know," said the spinster.

"True," replied the c. b., "and the exception to this one is when they talk about their own age."—Chicago News.

The Savage Bachelor.

"How women do love to stare at a hero!" said the cynical youth.

"Yep," assented the savage bachelor. "That is one reason why they always flock to weddings."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Mixed Blessing.

"Telephones are great time savers, aren't they?"

"Well, that depends on who calls you up."—Chicago Record.

Music at Home.

"Do you play any instrument, Mr. Jimp?"

"Yes; I'm a cornetist."

"And your sister?"

"She's a pianist."

"Does your mother play?"

"She's a zitherist."

"And your father?"

"He's a pessimist."—Chicago Record.

Going Into Danger.

"Goodby, Harold!" she cried as she threw her arms around his neck and wept on his shoulder. "I shall pray for your safe return."

"Going to the Philippines?" asked a sympathetic bystander.

"No," she replied tearfully. "Going to play center rush."—Chicago Post.

Knew What He Needed.

Canvasser—I have here a work—

Master of the House—I can't read.

Canvasser—But your children—

Master of the House—I have no children—triumphantly—nothing but a cat.

Canvasser—Well, you want something to throw at the cat.

He took the book.—Tit-Bits.

No Hope For Him.

"Then you cannot be the sunshine of my life?" asked the young man, with the insistence of one under a fixed idea.

"No," replied the lady detective softly; "you know I am a professional shadow."—Indianapolis News.

SIMPLE COLONIAL.

Handsome and Commodious House at Moderate Cost.

(Copyright, 1899, by George Hitchings, architect, 309 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.)

In building a home one should pay a great deal of attention to the outside appearance. Select a design that you will not tire of. You must take into consideration that a home is something you do not build very often. This design represents the colonial style of architecture,

PERSPECTIVE VIEW.

something that you cannot tire of. It is the prevailing style through the country.

The lines of this house are very simple, yet it has a hip roof, with a balustrade around the top and dormer windows to beautify it.

Dimensions.—Twenty-four foot front, 34 foot side. Height of ceilings, cellar, 7 feet; first floor, 10 feet; second floor, 9 feet 6 inches; attic, 8 feet 6 inches.

The first floor is nicely arranged. The parlor is 14 feet by 15 feet 6 inches. It has four large windows—to give splendid light and ventilation. The dining room is 14 feet 6 inches by 14 feet 10 inches and also has four large windows.

You pass from the dining room through a large butler's pantry, fitted up with china closet, built into the kitchen, which is nearly square and provided with all the modern fixtures.

The second floor has four chambers and a bathroom fitted up with a roll rim enameled bathtub, an earthenware washont water closet and a china washbowl, all of which are set open with nickel trimmings. There is an art glass window on the landing of each flight of stairs. The attic has two bedrooms and a storage room. The cellar is fitted up with a 36 inch furnace, which will heat the entire house in the coldest weather.

SHE MADE EYES.

Women "made eyes" as a business in the days of powder, patches and artificial chivalry. Even now, some superannuated belle, who slew her thousands by these old fashioned methods in the days of Polk and Buchanan, will complain of her grand-daughter: "Sally has beautiful eyes if she only knew how to use them." Chances are, the grand daughter hasn't the perfect eyes her ancestor had.

We do not "make eyes," but do make bad eyes good by proper application of glasses where needed.

The Morning Star.
WILMINGTON, N. C.
FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 23, 1900.

A NEGRO PREACHER MURDERED A FAMILY.

Horrible Crime Near Raleigh—Bodies of the Six Victims Cremated—The Murderer Arrested.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, March 22.—Among the most horrible crimes in the history of crime, and certainly the most horrible in the history of North Carolina, was perpetrated early this morning at Garners, five miles east of this city, when a negro, Tom Jones, commonly known in the county as "Preacher" Jones, murdered Ella Jones and her oldest daughter, Ida Jones, and then set fire to the beds in which lay the bodies of the murdered victims and four others, all small children, ranging in years from a baby one month old to the largest boy, who was not more than five years of age.

The work was done with an axe, the murderer, according to the story of little seven-year old Laura Jones, who escaped with her younger sister, deliberately and coolly striking the mother four times and making two heavy strokes into the body of the oldest child.

The house was completely destroyed by fire and the bones of the four youngest children were so frail that they are now distributed among the ashes, which alone remain to tell the story of the conflagration. The body of Ella Jones and that of Ida, the thirteen-year old child, were burned beyond recognition and are lying on the ground, charred crisp, and with the whole bodies cut open and displayed to view.

The dead are: Ella Jones, the mother, aged 33; Ida Jones, 13 years of age; Jessie Jones, five years old; Nancy Jones, 3 years old; Clever Jones, 2 years old; an unnamed baby, one month old.

The two girls who escaped from the fire with their lives were Laura Jones and Sid Jones, the latter four years old. When those who heard the story of the murder from the lips of the little ragged negro, went to Jones' house to arrest him, they found that his clothes bore the stains of fresh blood and his hands even showed spots of human blood.

Though there was talk among the negroes of lynching, no attempt was made to do so and Jones was brought to this city and placed in jail to await trial for his crime.

The two children, having no relatives, were taken to the county home to be cared for.

The Girl's Story.

Jones was arrested on the evidence of the seven-year old girl Laura, who escaped from the burning house after he had gone. She took with her, in her arms, her little sister Sid, who was sleeping in bed with her and an older sister (Ida), who was murdered. They went to the house of a neighbor, half a mile away, and told what had happened. Those who went to the fire could see distinctly the bodies on the bed inside the burning building, but it was too late to rescue them. To day the charred remains of the two murdered women were taken out and buried. The four small children, except the baby clasped in its mother's arms, had been entirely consumed.

The child Laura is very bright for her age, and though she told the story of the murder many times to-day she never varied from her account of it given last night, while her home was burning. She said:

"'Preacher' Jones came to our house last night about nine o'clock. I went to sleep. Then I woke up—mother woke me screaming. I saw 'Preacher' Jones strike her four times with an axe. Then he came to my bed and struck sister twice. The blood flew in my face. After that he struck a match to set both beds afire and went out. After he had gone I took Sid up in my arms and ran out. I carried her in my arms all the way to Mrs. Winter's and told them what 'Preacher' Jones had done."

Tom Jones denies the murder but he does not undertake to explain his whereabouts at the time. He admits that he was intimate with Ella Jones, who is not related to him, though she bears the same name. He says that they had quarrelled about her charging him with the paternity of her month old child, and this, it is understood, was the cause of the crime.

DEWEY PARTY IN MACON.

Enthusiastic Greeting—Parade, Reception and Dinner in Their Honor—Entertainment To-day.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MACON, GA., March 22.—Admiral George Dewey, with Mrs. Dewey and Lieutenant Caldwell, arrived in Macon on a special train from Savannah at 4.30 this afternoon and were met at the depot by the largest crowd seen in Macon in many a day. The party were met at the train by President Geo. A. Smith, of the Chamber of Commerce; Maj. W. J. Ross, chairman of the reception committee, and Mr. Robert H. Plant, at whose house the Dewey party will stay while in the city. The visitors were escorted by a battalion of the Second Georgia regiment, under command of Captain Fritz Jones, to Mr. Plant's house, where a reception and dinner party were given in their honor. Later the party were driven to the Volunteer's armory, where a public reception was held. The freedom of the city was presented to Admiral Dewey in a speech by Hon. Roland Ellis, while Mayor Bridges Smith made a similar presentation to Mrs. Dewey.

The feature of the entertainment to-morrow will be a review by Admiral and Mrs. Dewey of the six thousand school children of the county and a dinner and reception at the Cherokee Club.

A reception to the admiral was hearty and spontaneous and he was heartily cheered by the great crowd at the depot and along the streets through which he was driven. He has completely recovered from his attack in Savannah and is looking remarkably well.

PORTO RICO BILL AGAIN DISCUSSED.

Conference Report Upon the Appropriation Measure Criticised by Senators.

SPEECH BY SENATOR BACON.

Resolutions Passed—Proceedings in the House—The Loud Bill Relating to Second Class Mail Matter Recommitted—There to Die.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Almost the entire session of the Senate to day was spent in the discussion of the conference report upon the Puerto Rico appropriation bill. The Democratic Senators manifested a disposition to criticise the restoration of the House provision covering future collections of revenue, professing to find in this action a desire to continue the Dingley tariff.

Speeches were made on these lines by Messrs. Bacon, Cockrell, Jones of Arkansas, Berry and Allen.

The Republicans met the taunt with a proposition to take a vote immediately upon the House Porto Rico tariff bill, and it looked at one time as if unanimous consent would be secured for a vote on the tariff measure to morrow. Senator Proctor objected, however, on behalf of the Republican free traders, and when he indicated a willingness to agree to a vote next week, Senator Pettus put an end to the proceedings by calling for the regular order of business.

The following resolutions were passed: By Mr. Allen, requesting information as to the tariff rates in force in the Philippines, Guam, Porto Rico and Cuba and the amount collected in each island since the American occupation. By Mr. Butler, asking the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to the bank charters granted since the passage of the currency bill and for other information concerning the operations of the bill.

The Senate then took up the conference report on the Porto Rico Appropriation bill.

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, objected to the changes made in conference. The report would, he said, indicate that mutual concessions had been made on behalf of both the Senate and the House, but he held that an analysis would show that the Senate had yielded everything and the House nothing.

Senator Bacon objected especially to the concession on the part of the Senate to the House contention that the appropriation should cover future collections as well as those accruing up to January first.

The appropriation bill, he said, should be definite in terms, and especially was it believed by Senator Bacon that it was the purpose of the bill to provide for the contingency that the tariff bill now pending may fail. In that event the revenue arrangement would continue. That he thought was a legitimate conclusion.

Senator Bacon then launched upon a general argument against the Republican policy with reference to trade between the United States and the islands acquired in the war with Spain. No such outcry had recently been witnessed as that which had gone up from all over the country after the passage of the House bill, which was intended to oppress an unprotected people. Naturally the Republican leaders here sought to find a protecting shelter from this storm and this bill was intended as a peace offering to appease the indignation of the people. Not only had there been trouble in the country at large, but in the Senate as well, and as a consequence the Senate, for the first time in its history, had a peace committee—a committee appointed by the Republican caucus of the Senate to preserve peace among its members.

Senator Bacon also dwelt upon the insistence of the House upon the language continuing the collection and return of the revenue, "under existing law." Thus instead of having free trade with Porto Rico or a reduction to fifteen per cent. as promised, we are, he asserted, to continue the present relation, enforcing the full rate of the Dingley law. To adopt this conference report meant the leaving of the tariff wall standing and Senators who professed to be favorable to free trade could not afford to shut their eyes to this fact. If then, Congress should adjourn without passing another law, those who should vote for the conference report would be responsible for leaving this great burden upon a people for whom there was so much expressed commiseration. The House could have accepted the Senate amendments and he insisted that there could have been no such failure but for the intelligent direction of the bill by the interests which were advocating a tariff on the exchange of our commerce with Porto Rico.

Not only did Senator Bacon want free trade with Porto Rico, but he wanted it quickly. The great need of the Porto Ricans was to have such legislation as would put them in a position to help themselves and this could not be done by the course at present proposed. The talk of charity and humanitarianism was derided by him as mere pretence. He also contended that the money to be returned would not go to the people from whom it had been collected.

Mr. Bacon urged that Porto Rico was entitled to a free territorial government with all its privileges.

Mr. Cockrell, Missouri, and Mr. Sullivan, Mississippi, also opposed the conference report.

Senator Allison, defending the report, arraigned the Democrats for their delaying tactics and incidentally predicted there would be a deficit under any revenue system that might be devised for Porto Rico.

Senator Allen, Nebraska, criticised the Republican party. The appropriation bill was a make-shift to permit that party to escape from an awkward dilemma. The general bills, he predicted, would be allowed to drift until the temper of the people could be ascertained and a way out of the difficulty discovered. Referring particularly to Mr. Beveridge's indefinite postponement of his speech, he spoke of the wonderfully organized system which controlled the movements of the Republican party. Mr. Allen challenged the Republican side of the Senate for a vote on the House bill fixing the 15 per cent. tariff.

Replying to an inquiry from Senator Foraker, Senator Allen said so far as he was concerned he was willing to vote to day on the House bill. In the ensuing discussion the drift of sentiment seemed fixing an hour to morrow for a vote. Mr. Proctor, of Vermont, however, objected to immediate action and his proposition to vote a week hence was finally agreed to by Mr. Foraker, whose "own party called him."

The effort to fix a day for a vote was ended by Senator Pettus calling for the regular order. An effort to have a vote to day on accepting the conference report on the appropriation was stopped by an objection from Mr. Tillman, and the matter went over.

At 3 50 P. M. the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives.

After a spirited discussion extending over three days the Loud bill, relating to second class mail matter, was recommitted by the House to day to the committee on Postoffices. The majority in favor of the motion to recommit was so decisive that it is regarded as unlikely that the measure will appear again during the present Congress. Mr. Loud said after the vote was announced that this was the third time and out, so far as he was concerned. The vote on the motion was 148 to 96, with sixteen present and not voting.

The final vote was preceded by a lively debate on the general features of the bill, the principal speeches being made by Mr. Moon, Tennessee, in opposition to the measure, and by Mr. Moody, Massachusetts, in support of it.

Mr. Moon urged the value of the literature now sent as second class matter as instructive to the people, a point more important than a small bit of revenue to the government. The express companies, he said, would have a monopoly of the carrying of cheap literature if this bill passed.

Mr. Talbert, South Carolina, declared, in opposing the bill, that the House seemed to have a mania of new legislation or for re-enacting old legislation, He believed the present law sufficiently covered the subjects touched upo by the bill. He quoted Mr. Griggs, Georgia, as saying the pending bill did not change existing laws.

Mr. Griggs entered a denial of this statement and Mr. Talbert retorted that the Georgian's ground and lofty tumbling had made it impossible for even himself to tell what he meant by his speech. In conclusion, Mr. Talbert declared the country editors would be the heaviest sufferers by the passage of the bill.

Mr. Cummings, New York, said he opposed the bill in the interest of every white man who wants cheap literature, every type-setter and book-binder in the city of New York. The city of New York, he said, paid $5,000,000 every year to the Postoffice Department for second class postage, and by the enactment of the pending bill Congress would take work from every man interested in the printing trade.

Mr. Moody, Massachusetts, analyzed the bill, presenting, as he proceeded, arguments in favor of each provision. With the money which the government had lost on second-class matter during the past ten years, Mr. Moody declared it could have constructed the isthmian canal or a fleet of modern battleships.

Replying to Mr. Otey, Virginia, Mr. Moody maintained that the only men who were benefitted by the present situation as to second class mail matter were those who were plundering the treasury and crippling the operation of the Postoffice Department.

The Senate amendments to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill were non-concurred in the House and the bill sent to conference, with Messrs. Hitt, Adams and Dinsmore as conferees.

At 2:10 p. m. discussion of the Loud bill under the five minute rule was begun.

When the hour of four o'clock arrived, that being the time agreed upon for a vote upon the bill, Mr. Moon moved to recommit the measure to the post office committee with instructions.

The motion to recommit prevailed on a yea and nay vote—148 to 96—sixteen being present and not voting.

The House then at 4:55 p. m. adjourned.

TERRIBLE DOUBLE MURDER.

Two Citizens of Emporia, Va., Killed by Tramps—Murderers Caught—Lynching Imminent Last Night.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., March 22.—Information was received here this afternoon of a terrible double murder in Greensville county, supposed to have been committed by two tramps. Two well known citizens of Emporia, J. N Welton and J. W. Saunders, left that place for Trego, a station on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, about noon. Walking along the railroad to reach their destination they met two tramps, one white and the other a negro, who, it is supposed, held them up for the purpose of robbery. On showing resistance the two gentlemen were brutally shot down and the robbery was committed by force. When found Mr. Saunders was dead and Mr. Welton barely living, but having sufficient strength to tell about the murder and give a description of the murderers. Intense indignation was caused when the affair became known and as soon as possible a posse was organized for pursuit, assisted by bloodhounds. If the murderers are caught and their guilt established they will probably be summarily dealt with.

Later—The tramps were arrested this afternoon. A lynching is imminent to-night.

Another Account.

RICHMOND, VA., March 22.—Justice of the Peace Saunders and Mr. Welton, who were killed near Emporia this morning, were endeavoring to arrest two men suspected of the late Emporia robbery. One of the men who shot them was white and the other a negro. The shooting took place in a cabin. The white man has been captured and a posse is in pursuit of the negro, who was seen near Jarrett's to-night.

SEABOARD AIR LINE.

First Train from Portsmouth to Columbia, S. C., Passed Over the Line.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 22.—The Seaboard's first train from Portsmouth to Columbia, passed over the new line from Cheraw via Camden to this city. The new line is a direct route and will give the Seaboard a splendid Florida connection as soon as the bridge over the Congaree river, just south of Columbia, is finished. The new line is built of the finest material and the heaviest rail. All the rock ballast has not yet been put in. Frosts delayed completion of the Wateree river bridge, near Camden, and Congaree river bridge, near Columbia; but within a month the Seaboard's trains will be running through and over the F. C. & P.

In the New York Supreme Court yesterday J. Hampton Dougherty was appointed receiver of D. Appleton & Company, publishers, on the application of Daniel Pritchard, of New Jersey, a stockholder. The bond of the receiver was fixed at $150.000. The liabilities are about $1,000,000.

BOERS MAINTAIN A FIRM FRONT.

Reported That Pretoria is Prepared to Stand a Two Year's Seige.

SITUATION AT MAFEKING.

Persistent Rumors That the Seige has Been Raised—Col. Plummer's Relief Column Attacked by Boers. Some Sharp Fight.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, March 23, 4 A. M.—Again there is a persistent rumor that Mafeking has been relieved. The War Office, however, declares that there is no confirmation of the rumor and that no further news on the subject is at hand.

It seems certain that Mafeking's only chances lie in relief by the columns supposed to be advancing from the south, or in the possibility that Colonel Baden Powell is still strong enough to attempt a sortie, with a view of capturing the Boer guns, at a time when Commandant Snyman has withdrawn his men to oppose Colonel Plumer's advance.

All the reports regarding the British operations in the Free State continue satisfactory.

It is reported from Lorenzo Marques that Pretoria is prepared to stand a seige of two years and that the Boer women, frantic at the reverses to the Boer arms, are entreating to be allowed to shoot the British officers imprisoned at Pretoria.

It is announced from the Transvaal capital that the Italian government has declined to intervene.

British Defeat Rumored.

LONDON, March 23.—A report from Kroonstadt, Orange Free State, via Pretoria, that the Boers, under the command of General Olivier, had defeated the British troops under Gen. Gatacre in the vicinity of Bethuelie is not believed here. A dispatch to the Daily News from Springfontein, dated Tuesday, March 20th, says Gen. Gatacre was "all well," and adds that he and General Brabant had not lost a dozen men in a fortnight. The last advices also placed General Gatacre about thirty miles north of Bethulie, where the Boer representative says the defeat was inflicted. This, combined with the fact that no mention of the affair was made by Lord Roberts in his dispatch of March 21st, confirms the belief that the Kroonstadt advices are erroneous.

Col. Plumer's Column.

The reports of skirmishing near Lobatsi while apparently not inflicting any serious loss on Colonel Plumer's column, cause grave anxiety in regard to his ability to reach Mafeking. Further news from that quarter is anxiously awaited for in the six days that have elapsed since the last messages were sent off a serious engagement may have occurred, though not of Colonel Plumer's seeking The Boers seem determined not to give up their prey at Mafeking without a fierce struggle.

Six Months Longer.

The Times in its second edition publishes a dispatch from Lorenzo Marques which quotes President Steyn as saying, at Kroonstadt, that the Boers could continue the struggle for six months longer.

While the Boers and British in the Orange Free State are taking advantage of the period of inactivity to enjoy a rest, those on the borders of Natal are beginning to show activity. A special dispatch from Durban says the town of Pomeroy, thirty miles east of Ladysmith, has been burned by the Boers. A detachment arriving at Pomeroy as the Boers evacuated the place shelled the burghers, but they succeeded in taking up a strong position in the hills with a force estimated to number five thousand men.

No New Peace Overtures.

It has been learned that no new peace overtures have been made to Lord Salisbury nor are any expected at present by Great Britain. The telegraphic correspondence has been confined to the treatment of prisoners. Lord Salisbury, as already cabled, is holding the presidents of the South African Republics responsible for the welfare of British prisoners. The question of the safety of Johannesburg and the gold mines there has not been raised.

The correspondence exchanged between Lord Salisbury and President Kruger will shortly be given to Parliament.

Replying in the House of Commons to-day to a series of questions on the subject of General Lord Methuen and his alleged disagreements with the officers of his column, which have caused considerable scandal, the parliamentary secretary for the war office, George Wyndham, declared no charge had been brought against General Methuen by Colonel Gough or any other officer. Colonel Gough, he added, has been informed that an inquiry would be held into his case. Colonel Gough is alleged to have been ordered home by General Methuen after declining to obey a command issued by the latter, and the colonel demanded a trial by court martial.

Burghers Anxious to Surrender.

LONDON, March 22.—Lord Roberts telegraphs from Bloemfontein under date of March 21st as follows:

"So many burghers have expressed a desire to surrender under the terms of the last proclamation that have sent small columns in various directions to register their names and take over their arms.

"A cavalry brigade has gone to the eastward to Thahanchu and a detachment from Springfontein has occupied Smithfield, where some Transvaalers and a wagon with arms and ammunition were captured. The Scots Guards are at Edenburg and Redderburg. General Clements' brigade is marching hither by way of Palippolitis and Fauresmith."

ALIWALNORTH, CAPE COLONY, March 22.—Commandant Olivier left Smithfield two hours before the British scouts arrived. He only succeeded in inducing about 150 men to accompany him, mostly insurgent colonists. The Free Staters refused to go with him and are returning to their farms.

Boers Advancing in Force.

LOBATSI, Friday, March 16.—The Boers, under Commandant Snyman, are advancing in force from Mafeking towards Lobatsi.

Colonel Bodle made a reconnoissance on March 13th, and found Pitsani and Pothlugo occupied by the Boers. He returned to Groode Siding and made a demonstration on March 14th. He found the Boers in strength at a sharp curve on the railway. They had mounted a gun on the line and were lying in wait for the construction train.

A brisk firing occurred a few miles south of Lobatsi on the morning of the 15th. The Boers' Maxim was freely used. Col. Bodle came in touch with the Boers just in time to prevent the camp being surprised. The Boers attacked the advance party and captured a few boxes of ammunition and nearly secured a Maxim. Lieutenant Tyler was killed and Lieutenant Chapman captured. Col. Bodle coming up put the Boers to flight with heavy loss.

The Boers yesterday were within a few miles of Lobatsi.

Brisk Firing.

Yesterday afternoon the Boers pressed closely on Col. Plumer's main camp and kept up a hot fire with a Maxim, killing one white man and one native. They placed the Maxim and one 12½-pounder on a hill on the east side of the line, four thousand yards from the camp.

The British right is protected by Chief Bathcon, who has warned the Boers not to enter his territory.

Colonel Plumer's present endeavor is to insure the safety of the railway north of Lobatsi and to watch well the left flank. It is probable that before the Boers retire towards Pretoria they will tackle the Rodesians in force.

It is reported that the burghers are abandoning the environs of Mafeking, leaving only a sufficient number of artillerists to man the big guns. There are none at Ramathlambama, where they were supposed to have their base. Colonel Plumer's scout were at Ramthlabama yesterday.

The usual Mafeking dispatches are overdue but no anxiety is felt on that score.

CARNEGIE STEEL COMPANY.

Reorganized—Capital Over $200,000,000. All Litigation Dropped.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PITTSBURG, PA., March 23.—The Carnegie Steel Company, limited, becomes a stock company, with a capital variously estimated at from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000. The famous "iron clad agreement" is wiped out, all litigation between the partners in the Carnegie Company is dropped, and H. C. Frick, the former president of the company, virtually secures all he has contended for. These facts are embodied in an authorized statement issued to night by the Carnegie Steel Company, limited.

Old King Cole was a merry old soul,
And a merry old soul was he;
The reason why to give I'll try,
If you will listen to me.

Beginning betimes he had saved his dimes
And saved his pennies too
For this he could thank the Savings Bank,
And he set an example for you

O, WHAT A BEAUTIFUL SPRING MORNING!

COUSIN ANNIE, we must go down to Gaylord's Branch Store to-day and get us some Percale Shirt Waists. They have a beautiful line of 12½c Percale at 10c. We can get a Shirt Waist there for 25c, and it will cost us 32c anywhere else. So there we save 7c. They also have a nice line of Lawns, Dimities and Piques; the prettiest patterns you ever saw, ranging in price from 4 to 10c. They still sell Fruit of the Loom Bleaching at 8c.; Masonville and Barber Mills at 7c. They are going to close out their Winter Dress Goods at a very low figure, and we may pick up a bargain in that. We will look at them, anyway, and decide on that then.

They carry a very nice assortment of Shoes, too. I'll bet we can get us a nice pair of Slippers there with the amount we will save on our purchases; don't you? Well, we will investigate the matter when we get there.

We can surprise you in quality and prices. Come and look for yourself and be convinced.
